

Comments/solutions on the Blackboard discussion board please!

In the Six Nations Rugby Tournament, each of the six teams plays one match against each of the others. In a particular year, there are no drawn matches, and no team wins all five of its matches. Prove that in this year there must be three teams A , B and C for which A beats B , B beats C and C beats A .